TRAIL DESCRIPTIONS

Situated in the southern central part of New Jersey's Burlington County, Wharton State Forest is in the heart of New Jersey's Pine Barrens. Home to many rare and endangered species of plants and animals, the State Forest is open to the general public for recreation all year long. Miles of sand roads cross pine forests, cedar swamps and fresh water streams. The water flows from the Kirkwood-Cohansey Aquifer. The aquifer, one of the largest on the continent, holds an estimated 17 trillion gallons of water. Cranberry bogs, leased by private parties, abound throughout the park.

Wharton State Forest trails are some of the most picturesque in the state. Trail conditions vary greatly within the park, but expect water everywhere. A variety of trails will be available during the Pine Barrens Jeep Jamboree. Trails wind through low-lying forest and swamps which consist of predominately sandy soil. Some of these trails are old non-maintained local roads and some are fire roads. The fire roads were installed to provide access to Wharton State Forest in the event of a forest fire.

Keep your eyes open for the wide variety of birds native to this forest such as bald eagles, red-tailed hawks, pine warblers (yellow and green) and the barred owl. The barred owl is active during the day (unlike other species) and has a call that sounds like "WHO COOKS FOR YOU".

The timber rattlesnake (the only poisonous snake in the forest) and the pine snake (black and white) also call the Wharton State Forest home.

Cranberries are cultivated in sand-covered bogs that can be flooded or drained at will. Flooding protects the vines from frosts and freezing weather and destroys insect pests. We will pass cranberry bogs along the trail.

INTERESTING FACTS

Contrary to its name, the Pine Barrens is rich in natural resources. Covering the better part of Burlington County, the Pinelands consist of sandy roads, cedar swamps, meadows, forests and an abundance of fur-bearing animals.

The Pine Barrens stretch northward to Monmouth County and southward to Cape May County.

Encompassing one million acres, the Pine Barrens take up nearly 20% of the state's land area.

The Pine Barrens' most remarkable feature is the Kirkwood-Cohansey aquifer, an underground body of water, with a storage capacity of 17 trillion gallons. The aquifer links the various subsystems from the dry sandy uplands, where the water table is more than two feet below the surface, to the soggy wetlands where it can rise above the surface.

The existence of unusual plants and animals is an important feature of the Pine Barrens and has prompted many protection efforts.

In 1978 the Federal Government designated the Pine Barrens as the country's first "National Reserve", a protected area in which much of the land remains in private ownership, but is subject to government review regarding its use.

Today's primary use of the Pine Barrens is recreational. Park Rangers and the Pineland Commission are responsible for the protection of this natural resource. Current problems range from illegal use of lands to illegal dumping. As supporters of the Tread Lightly! program, this concerns us in our effort to educate the public in ethical land use.

Agriculture plays a large part in the eco-structure of the Pine Barrens. Today, large cranberry bogs are prevalent throughout the park. Blueberries, in season, dot the landscape with flashes of color and even pinecones are gathered for various uses.

The Pine Barrens, often depicted as uninhabited, has actually been the home for a cross-section of American life. Before the arrival of the Europeans, the original inhabitants, the Lenape Indians, used the Pine Barrens primarily as their hunting and fishing territory. A reservation created for the Lenapes in the early 1700's is now known as Indian Mills. Unable to subsist in this small area, the Indians migrated west.

The people of the Pinelands are descendants of the Dutch, Germans, and English Quakers. These "PINEYS" labored in a number of resource-based industries like lumbering, iron mining, forging and glassmaking.

TRAIL USAGE AND INFORMATION

WATER CROSSINGS

We may have water crossings and water holes. Many of these crossings and holes offer a bypass if you decide to "go around". It is very IMPORTANT to watch and listen to your trail guide. Please be sure your air intake is disconnected. Your trail guide can help you with this if needed. When driving in deep water, GO VERY SLOW! If your engine gets wet and stalls, DO NOT try to start it as you may cause serious engine damage. After the Jamboree, please be sure to reconnect your air intake. For additional tips on water crossings, please refer to your copy of "Mark A. Smith's Guide to Safe, Common Sense Off-Road Driving".

A NOTE ON LAND USAGE

Many Jeep Jamboree USA events are held on private lands with the consent of landowners, or on public lands through special use permits. In some cases, Jamboree trail groups are granted access to trail areas, which are closed to all other vehicular access during the year. Please be aware that access to these trail areas is allowed only by guided JJUSA groups during the scheduled Friday and Saturday trail rides. Individual Jamboree guests returning later to drive in these areas on their own do so in violation of JJUSA's land use agreements and endanger future Jamboree usage of these restricted trails as well as being removed from the Jamboree without a refund. Thank you for your cooperation in assuring Jamboree access to some of America's most spectacular backcountry.

PLEASE TREAD LIGHTLY!

Travel responsibly on designated roads and trails or in permitted areas.

Respect the rights of others including private property owners and all recreational trail users, campers and others to allow them to enjoy their recreational activities undisturbed.

Educate yourself by obtaining travel maps and regulations from public agencies, planning for your trip, taking recreation skills classes, and knowing how to use and operate your equipment safely.

Avoid sensitive areas such as meadows, lakeshores, wetlands and streams, unless on designated routes. This protects wildlife habitat and sensitive soils from damage.

Do your part by leaving the area better than you found it, properly disposing of waste, minimizing the use of fire, avoiding the spread of invasive species, restoring degraded areas, and joining a local enthusiast organization.

TRAIL RATING SYSTEM

Every Jamboree trail is rated from 1 (easiest) to 10 (the most difficult). These ratings are based on the overall trail, not just on one or two tough spots. Rain can increase ratings by one or two points. Please remember, all vehicles are subject to inspection prior to trail departure. Numerically higher rated Jamborees are more likely to result in vehicular damage.

1-2 Obstacles and terrain are relatively easy to navigate. In optimum weather conditions, some trails may not require continual use of four-wheel drive (4WD).

3-5 Moderately demanding. Challenge for novice drivers. Obstacles may include: mud holes, boulders, and streams. Requires 4WD with 4-LO.

6-7 Demanding. Challenge for most skill levels. Mud holes get deeper, boulders get larger, and climbs get steeper. Requires 4WD with 4-LO.

8-9 Very demanding. Likelihood of getting stuck is high. Mud holes may be deep and rock climbing is more arduous. Lifts and lockers are helpful. Requires 4WD with 4-LO.

10 Extremely demanding. Reserved for the toughest off-road trip in the U.S.A. – the Rubicon Trail. Requires 4WD with 4-LO (Not recommended for Jeep Patriot, Compass, Liberty, Cherokee, Grand Cherokee, or Commander.)

During registration Participants will have the opportunity to discuss the trails, their driving experience and vehicle capabilities with the trail guides. Guides will work with participants for trail placement.

RAIN MAY INCREASE TRAIL RATINGS 1 OR 2 POINTS, ESPECIALLY WITH STREET TIRES.

FRIENDLY REMINDERS – Before, During, After Your Trip

BEFORE YOU LEAVE

Your registration IS NOT COMPLETE until we receive a completed waiver. This helps you to prevent delays in processing your registration and avoid longer wait times during registration. A waiver for participants under the age of 18 years old must be signed by a parent or the minor's legal guardian.

New Registrations and Adding Passengers: It is very important to register new vehicles and/or passengers at least two weeks prior to the Jamboree date. registration. Shirts will be given to you at Thursday registration. Other Jeep Jamboree USA clothing and merchandise will be available onsite and online however quantities and sizes are limited.
