EXPEDITION OVERVIEW

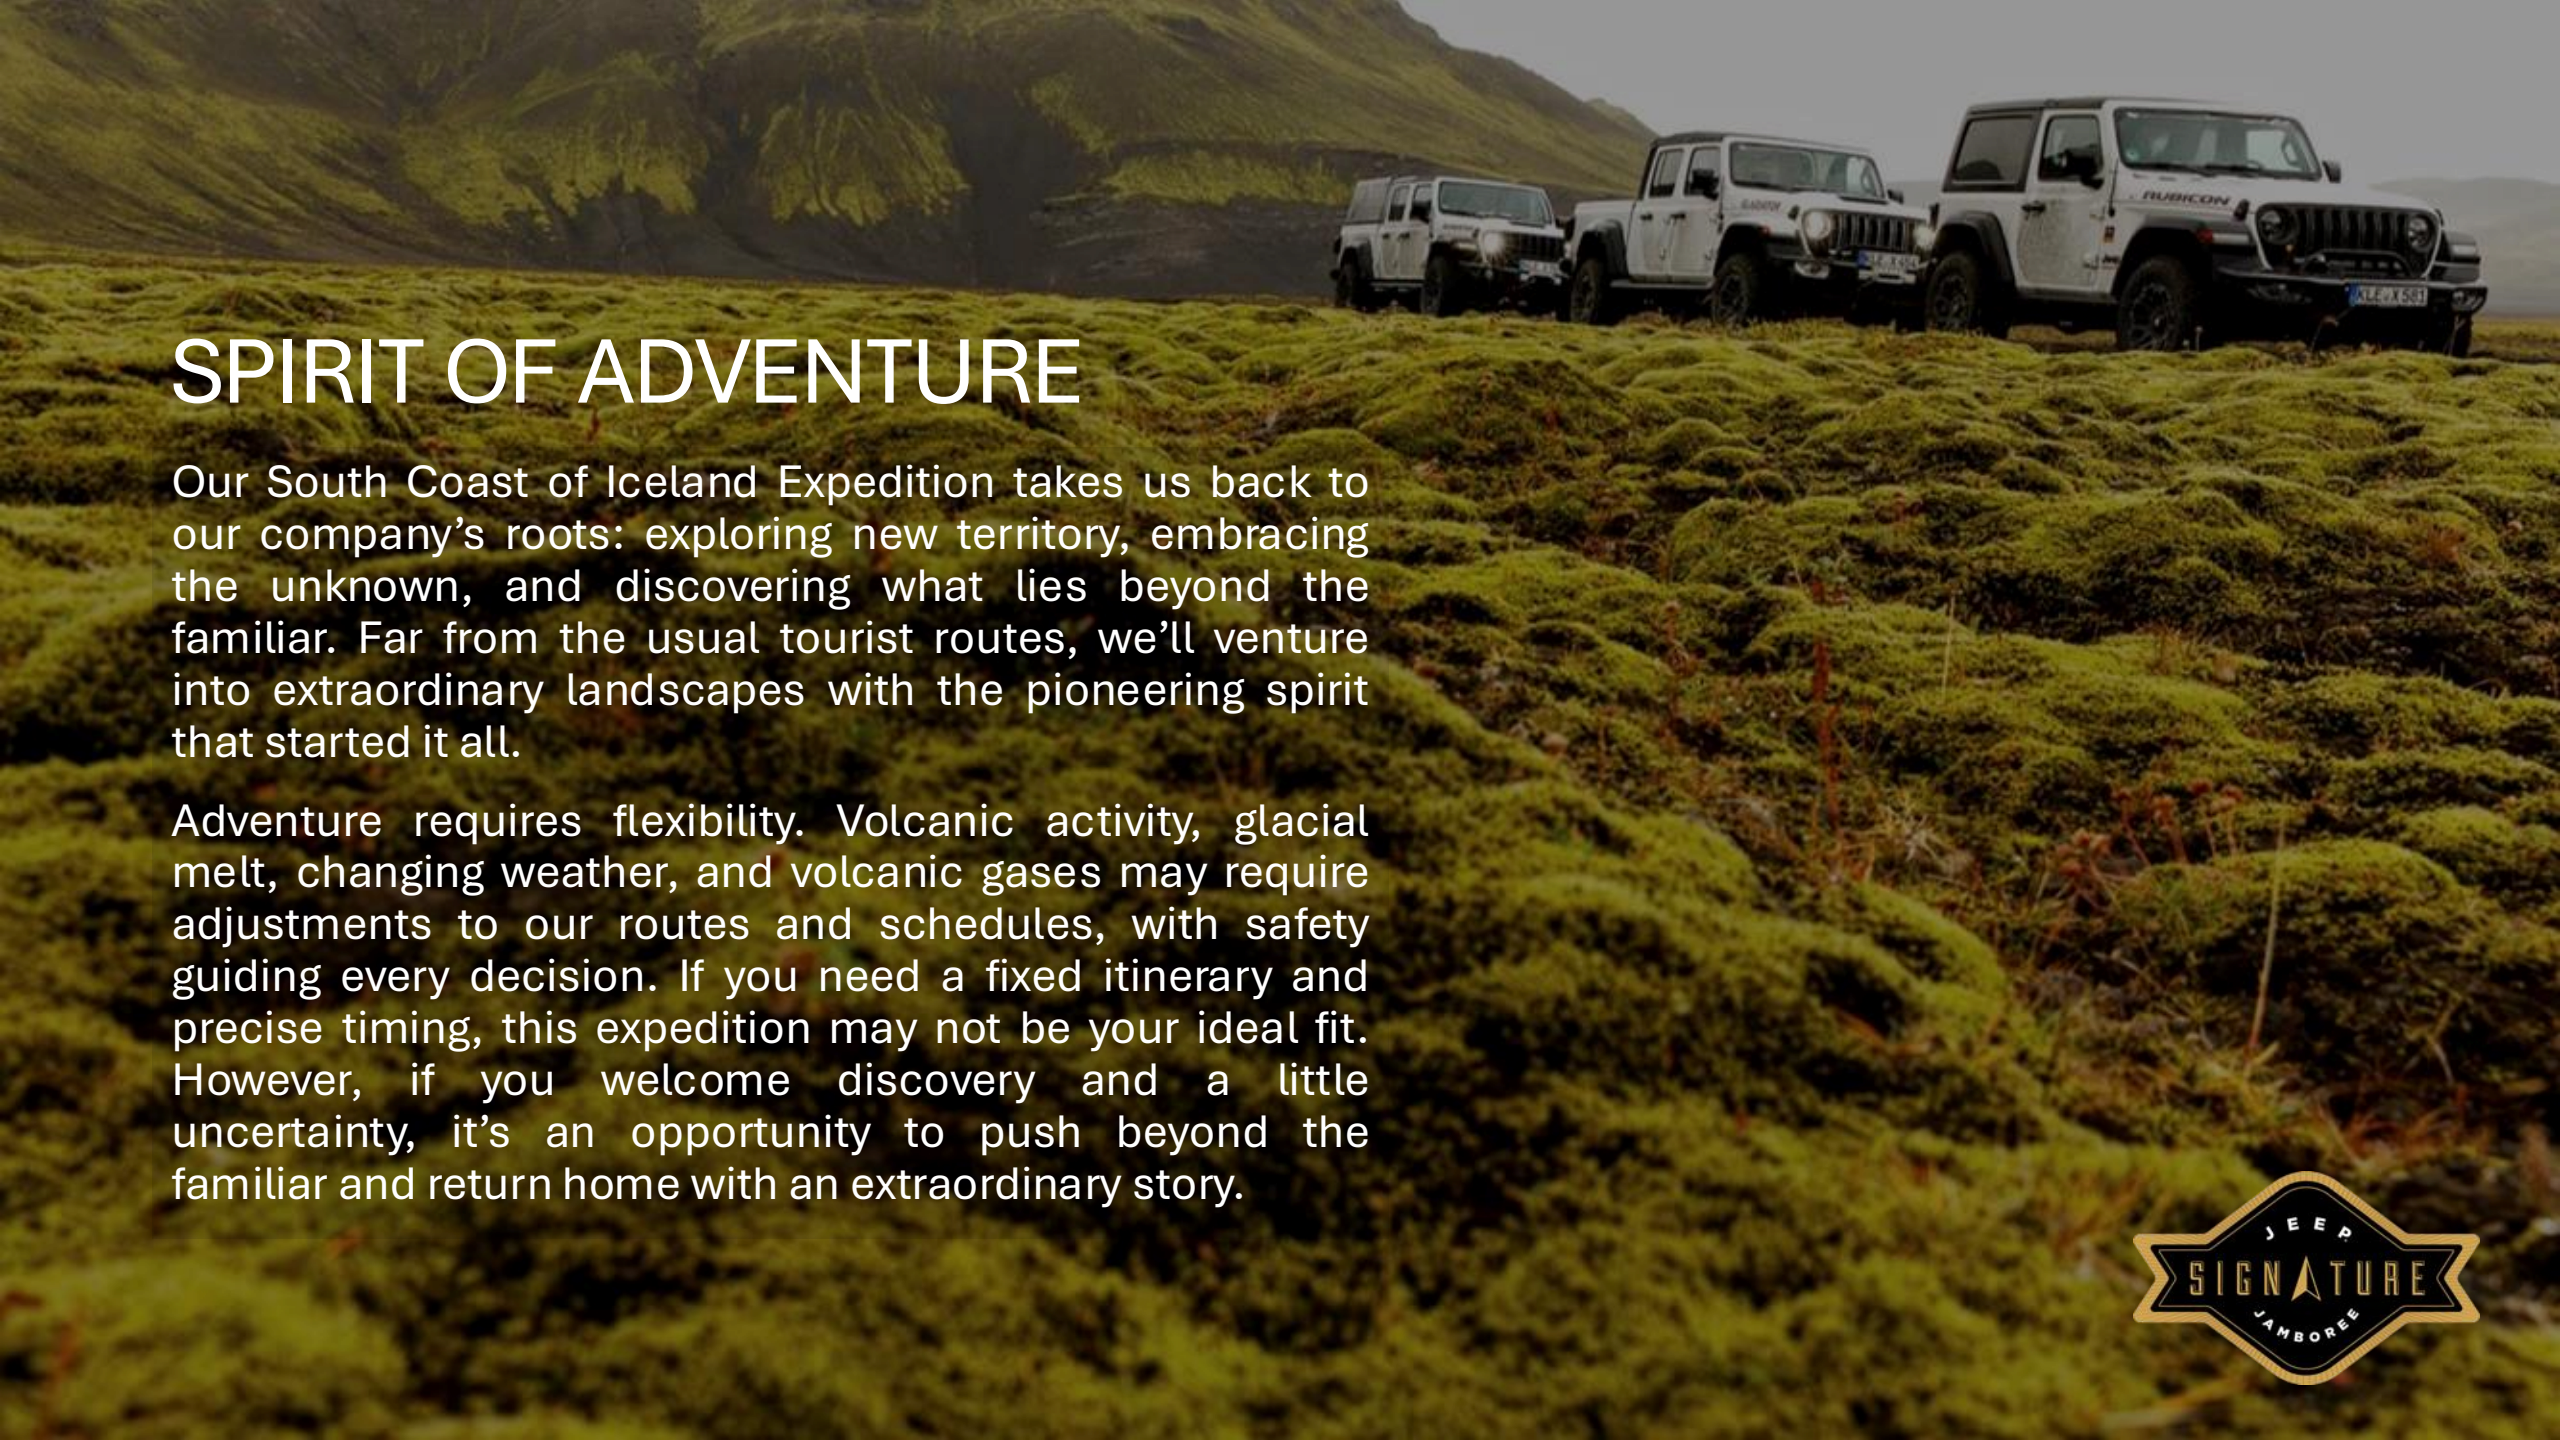

Jeep Jamboree USA returns to Iceland's South Coast for an expedition that revisits some of our favorite landscapes and routes from past adventures. Taking place July 31 – August 5, 2027, this six-day, five-night journey brings a small group of adventurers together to explore a region where volcanic terrain, towering waterfalls, and sweeping black sands meet the North Atlantic.

Driving Jeep Wranglers, we'll venture along the southern coast and into the rugged terrain beyond, exploring remote tracks framed by glacier-capped mountains, green hillsides, and vast volcanic plains. River crossings and changing terrain bring fresh challenges to familiar surroundings, while long summer days offer time to take it all in. For those returning, it's a chance to rediscover what drew them to Iceland. For newcomers, it's an introduction to the landscapes and shared adventures that keep us coming back.

EXPEDITION OVERVIEW

Limited to just seven double-occupancy vehicles, 14 participants; this expedition offers an intimate, fully supported experience with local Icelandic guides and a Jeep Jamboree USA representative accompanying the group throughout the journey. All ground costs are included: five nights of hotel accommodations, Jeep Wrangler rental vehicles, vehicle insurance, fuel, all meals, and nonalcoholic beverages.

Each day begins with breakfast at the hotel, includes a freshly grilled lunch on the trail, and concludes with dinner and a comfortable hotel stay. Arriving July 31 and concluding August 5, this South Coast of Iceland expedition combines adventurous days with thoughtful hospitality, allowing you to focus on the landscapes, the driving, and the shared experience of discovering Iceland together.

SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE

Our South Coast of Iceland Expedition takes us back to our company’s roots: exploring new territory, embracing the unknown, and discovering what lies beyond the familiar. Far from the usual tourist routes, we’ll venture into extraordinary landscapes with the pioneering spirit that started it all.

Adventure requires flexibility. Volcanic activity, glacial melt, changing weather, and volcanic gases may require adjustments to our routes and schedules, with safety guiding every decision. If you need a fixed itinerary and precise timing, this expedition may not be your ideal fit. However, if you welcome discovery and a little uncertainty, it’s an opportunity to push beyond the familiar and return home with an extraordinary story.
